HELLO THERE!

Allow me to introduce myself: I am a designer, an illustrator and a animator in training. I'm also an animal and wine lover. I like to tell stories through images, make funny animations, crack stupid jokes, cry at bad design, blast music really loud and dance when no one is watching. I am still figuring out what I am doing with my life. But hey, nice to meet you!

I would love to hear from you!

Would you want to work on a project together? or maybe sit in a bench and talk about the psychology of colors? or perhaps you want a profesional opinion on why Vincet Van Gogh was thinking about marshmellows in hot chocolate when he painted stairy nights?

Whatever it is, I am interested in hearing from you. Feel free to find me in any of the following places:
